HIMSS[®]09

At this symposium, nursing leaders will address the most current...and compelling...issues facing nursing informatics today. Be a part of this dynamic, interactive learning experience through general sessions and specialized tracks.

This program was designed by and for Nursing Informatics professionals to support the integration of nursing and information technology, and to provide the practical solutions you've come to expect from HIMSS.

Come and learn about:

- Data optimization strategies for enhanced workflow and documentation
- EMR, EHR...defining the concepts - realizing the outcomes
- Lessons learned from an all-digital, wireless hospital
- 'Never events' – never again through informatics

Be at the Center of Healthcare Reform...Attend HIMSS09!

Healthcare Reform is high on President-elect Barack Obama's agenda. Attend HIMSS09 to learn how the new Administration's $50-$65 billion healthcare reform effort will directly impact you and the industry! Voice your opinion and be a vital part of HIMSS' healthcare IT recommendations for the Obama Administration and the 111th Congress.

Be an agent of change in this exciting new era.

evolved perspective on patient care and a tremendous opportunity to be an architect of change — building a better future for global healthcare through informatics

Attend and you'll receive:
Continuing Nursing Education
(CNE) Credit!

The Nursing Informatics Symposium is just one of the many opportunities found at HIMSS09. Attend the main conference and you'll join over 29,000 healthcare professionals for several days of product innovations, top keynote speakers, and shared knowledge and best practices...Save $100 when you register for both a Symposium and the HIMSS09 Conference! Visit www.himssconference.org for details.

It's a guarantee that the nursing professionals you need to connect with will be at HIMSS09! How do we know? Because...HIMSS09 is in the Midwest's largest medical hub — home to thousands of healthcare organizations.

Chicago is in the middle of the Midwest — home to more than 10,300* healthcare organizations. Within a short distance from the city are integrated delivery systems, critical access hospitals, single hospital systems, large hospitals and much more. Attendees and exhibitors will have the opportunity to leverage this healthcare hub by connecting with their peers in one place, at one time to network, exchange ideas, and explore new options and solutions.

Transforming Data into Practice: The Novice-to-Expert / Data-to-Wisdom Continuum

1:15 pm - 2:45 pm

Ramona Nelson, PhD, BC-RN, FAAN, ANEF
President
Nelson Consulting
Allison Park, PA

Marcelline Harris, RN, PhD
Clinical Nurse Researcher/
Nurse Administrator
Mayo Clinic
Rochester, MN

Informaticists create an information-rich environment that supports the highest-quality healthcare and patient health. To do so, they work with shareable representations, transformations and delivery of data, knowledge and wisdom. This presentation examines the competencies informaticists demonstrate on the novice-to-expert continuum, and correlates this to the data-to-wisdom continuum. Specifically, this presentation will:

- Analyze the concepts of data, information, knowledge, and wisdom in the context of nurse informaticists' work
- Analyze the similarities and differences across informatics competencies
- Describe how nurse informaticists demonstrate competency in applying all data across functional areas of nursing informatics

BREAK

2:45 pm - 3:00 pm

EMR, EHR: Defining the Concepts and Realizing the Outcomes

3:00 pm - 4:30 pm

Cynthia Spurr, MBA, RN, C, FHIMSS
Corporate Director, Clinical Systems
Partners HealthCare System
Wellesley, MA

Pat Wise, RN, MS, MA, FHIMSS, Colonel, USA Ret'd
Vice President
Healthcare Information Systems
HIMSS
Evans, GA

Paper medical records are being replaced with electronic healthcare information systems. Are they electronic medical records or electronic health records? Are these terms synonymous or are they different? This presentation describes the Davies Award Program and the EMR Adoption Model (EMRAM), both of which recognize significant achievements in electronic healthcare systems. It also discusses the automation of nursing-care documentation – its expected benefits and the essential planning and implementation steps needed to achieve them. In particular, it will:

- Discuss the difference between an EHR and EMR
- Describe significant attributes of the Davies Award of Excellence and key components of the EMR Adoption Model
- Identify implementation steps needed to achieve strategic objectives and redefine the role of nursing

“The HIMSS Annual Conference & Exhibition has given me a wider perspective on the issues we all share when developing an EMR. You are able to dialog with other users that are at different stages of implementation, brainstorming on how they resolved an issue that you may currently have.”

Keynote Session: Optimizing Informatics Through Leadership

9:15 am - 10:15 am

Patricia E. Natale, RN,
MSN
Chief Nursing Officer
Detroit Medical Center and
Vice President of Patient Care
Services
DMC Detroit Receiving Hospital
Detroit, MI

This keynote session shares leadership tactics to facilitate the organizational “cultural change” needed for lasting clinical transformation. The presentation examines how to develop a vision of the transformation/informatics journey, plus adoption strategies to help make the vision a reality. It will energize and engage the audience with real-world examples and solutions. In particular, it will:

- Describe the role of the CNO, and the importance of nursing leadership in the informatics/clinical transformation journey
- Discuss the role of informatics as partner in the clinical transformation process
- Review tactics of leadership which will facilitate the clinical transformation and gain predictable excellence in patient outcomes and clinician engagement

10:15 am - 10:30 am

Collaborating Across the Discipline for Strategic Alignment

10:30 am - 11:45 am

Aurelia Boyer, RN, MS,
MBA
Senior Vice President & Chief
Information Officer
NewYork–Presbyterian Hospital
& NewYork–Presbyterian
Healthcare System
New York, NY

Nympha Meindel, Chief
Information Officer
Kingsbrook Jewish Medical Center
Massapequa, NY

Suzanne Carter, Vice President, IS Customer Service
and Ambulatory Practice
Systems
MedStar Health, Columbia, MO

Three knowledgeable Chief Information Officers with nursing backgrounds share experiences in a panel discussion, ranging in scope from governance to strategic alignment to project management. They will also provide insights into how to increase the effectiveness of the nurse informaticist's role. During this presentation, the panelists will:

- Discuss the opportunities and challenges related to aligning IT initiatives with organizational strategic goals
- Identify strategies to foster achievement of “on time, within budget” projects that obtain targeted outcomes
- Indicate how nurse informaticists can be more effective within their organizations

LUNCH

11:45 am - 1:00 pm

TRACK ONE

Optimizing Workflow Through Process Improvement

Addressing the Unintended Consequences of BCMA Administration and Clinical Documentation

1:00 pm - 2:15 pm

Jonathan Bagby, MSN, MBA-HCM, RN-BC
Nurse Consultant, Bar Code Resource Office, CHIO
US Department of Veterans Affairs
Richmond, VA

In the 10 years since the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) implemented its Bar Code Medication Administration system nationwide, many unintended consequences have occurred while moving from a single-site pilot to full implementation at over 170 facilities. Now that the Bar Code Medication Administration has been responsible for administering nearly one billion doses, the VA has learned many lessons it can share with other facilities that intend to implement or improve bedside bar coding. The presenter will:

- Discuss the workflow process used to get a medication from order entry to administration
- Review strategies used by the VA to improve software usability
- Detail the resources required to implement and maintain a bar-code medication administration

Run Until Apprehended: A Case Study in Transforming Healthcare Delivery

2:15 pm - 3:30 pm

Cheryl L. Herbert, RN
President
Dublin Methodist Hospital
Dublin, OH

Lamont M. Yoder, RN, FACHE, VP and CNO
Dublin Methodist Hospital
Dublin, OH

Dublin Methodist Hospital, a member of the Ohio Health system, opened as a digital hospital in early January 2009. Learn how this hospital designed information technology into their building as an essential component of care. Also see how multidisciplinary clinical teams designed appropriate workflows to leverage clinical information systems. Additionally, this presentation will:

- Illustrate impact of integrated technology and patient safety concerns in an all-digital, wireless and paperless environment
- Summarize the results of integrating innovative technology with ideal experience / workflow mapping
- Detail key successes that facilitate ongoing IT and patient care transformation

TRACK TWO

Driving Metrics Through Data Optimization

Health Outcomes for Better Information and Care: Making Nursing Visible

1:00pm - 2:15 pm

Peggy White, RN, MN
National Project Director
C-HOBIC
Toronto, ON

Sally Remus, RN, MscN
Director, Clinical Informatics
St. Michael's Hospital
Toronto, ON

This presentation describes how the Health Outcomes for Better Information and Care (HOBIC) initiative creates the opportunity to change nursing practice, providing information to nurses at the point of care in real time. This initiative works with healthcare organizations to implement electronic collection of standardized evidence-based outcomes that reflect nursing practice. In particular, the presentation will:

- Detail the opportunities and challenges of designing and delivering electronic clinical documentation systems, optimizing them by incorporating outcomes measures relative to evidence-based nurse-patient scenarios
- Discuss the challenges and benefits of collecting standardized information in electronic clinical documentation systems, using this information to inform and facilitate care decisions that are safe, effective and efficient
- Examine how nurse leaders integrate this information into decision-making regarding the quality of care on their units

Thriving in Healthcare's Perfect Storm: Conquering Never Events

2:15 pm - 3:30 pm

Steven H. Shaha, PhD, DBA
Principal Outcomes Consultant
Eclipsys
Atlanta, GA

As the healthcare climate becomes more problematic, "Never Events" comprise a major new requirement facing healthcare organizations. This session reviews factors that contribute to this Perfect Storm, describing how outcomes improvement has become the optimal strategy guiding nurses and organizations to identify best practices, optimize work flow, and maximize outcomes — all focused on conquering Never Events. The session will:

- Articulate healthcare's version of the Perfect Storm and the role of Never Events
- Describe optimal IT configurations and capabilities for achieving success
- Describe nursing's role in mastering Never Events with the aid of supportive technology

BREAK

3:30 pm - 3:45 pm

Symposium Summation and Closing Remarks

3:45 pm - 4:00 pm

Joyce Sensmeier, MS, RN,

Vice President, Informatics
HIMSS
Chicago, IL

Mimi Hassett, MS, RN,
FHIMSS
Independent Informatics
Consultant
Housatonic, MA

Closing Keynote:

Igniting Nursing Informatics Solutions — Unraveling the Complexity

4:00 pm - 5:00 pm

Connie W. Delaney, PhD,
RN, FAAN, FACMI
Professor and Dean, School of Nursing
University of Minnesota
Minneapolis, MN

Nursing and nursing informatics, immersed in healthcare and e-Health system transformation, are challenged to leverage informatics solutions to reduce complexity. This session examines solutions for nurse informaticists, who must be empowered as key drivers of healthcare transformation, as they challenge the conventional boundaries of interprofessional relationships, systems integration and technological innovation. This presentation will:

- Synthesize the Symposium's core, integrated message regarding the empowerment of nurse informaticists
- Challenge the nursing workforce's readiness for a transformational health system
- Discuss interprofessional issues, integration, solutions and opportunities to demonstrate nursing informatics leadership

“As a nurse and quality professional by background, the CPHIMS credential provides personal validation to me and my superiors, that a non-technically trained person can acquire the knowledge and skills necessary to lead our organization through important decisions regarding the use of information technology.”
